These things aren't humans, just moving bodies. Twisted magic.

We have to find their weak point!

Darn it! I hate having to hide up here in the pipes. I'm just as bad as Raven...
I hate it too, but there's not a lot we could do to help.

At least your friend Blitz seems to be holding his own down there...
Yeah, but those... things... just won't DIE. What are they?

They're people who have given up their souls. But there is something else I am sensing.

Over there! I can feel three strong magical auras, they're the real threat.
I can only see two new people, wait, damit, the second one ran off, I lost him.

So, you came late to the party ,eh? Too scared to fight us when we're fresh? Well, I've still got plenty of fire in me so don't think you'll get off easy.

I come as an emissary. We want the prince. Co-operate and your deaths will be relatively clean.
Give him to us now. We're taking him anyway.

We are the prince's guard, loyal to the death. Can a mangy dog like you understand that? Loyalty?

That's the signal.

Time for you to do your stuff Knull.

That's a good boy. Kurr and Lucinda will finish them off while Han finds the heir.
I'll give you a choice, die slow and painfully, or let ME finish you off MY way.
I like choice. Here's another one: would you prefer to be regular or extra crispy?!
